Oh K! Anti-Blue Light Sheet Mask

Protect your precious skin from the effects of excessive screen time. Overexposure to blue light is associated with oxidative stress, causing the skin to release free radicals. These free radicals disrupt and slow down the skin's natural elastin and collagen production, and prematurely age the skin. The biodegradable sheet mask is formulated with antioxidants and ginger to help protect the skin against the effects of blue light and leave skin feeling soft and hydrated.

Masque Bar Shield & Soothe Hydrogel Facial Under PPE Mask

This facial mask is the first of its kind, originally created for medical workers wearing their masks for hours at a time. Designed to be worn underneath PPE and non-medical face masks as a preventative measure, the mask acts as a barrier to heal and moisturize skin. It can also be used as an end-of-day treatment to relieve and repair irritated skin under the area the mask was covering. Contains hydrating hyaluronic acid and calming aloe extract. After one use, skin is left feeling calm, soothed and ready to tackle breakouts.

“Eye patches and sheet masks are my summer go-tos. It is so important to protect your skin with SPF, but there are also steps you can take at the end of the day that are not only effective, but sensorial and enjoyable. I like to keep hydrating and calming masks in the fridge and use it after a day out at the beach.”
